Mountain View Crossing Atrium

Wayne, NJ

Architect: Mark A. Carrelli Architects

Scope of Work: Interior Renovation

Klae Construction recently completed an interior renovation at Mountain View Crossing in Wayne, NJ. The Atrium includes many new features creating an open yet cozy space for the residents at Mountain View. A new gas fireplace surrounded with stone and radiant floor panels allow a warm and inviting space with an innovative, contemporary aesthetic. The reclaimed wood beams suspended from stainless steel cables and the ceramic floor that stimulates the wood planking contribute to the wonderfully current space, simultaneously creating a very comfortable living area for all. The recessed flat screen TV allows for entertainment in the area. The room's décor is topped off with ornamental aluminum railings, oak trim and wall finishes including wall covering, wood veneer and paint and new wall sconce and pendant lighting. In addition to the Atrium, Klae finished a complete corridor renovation and upgrade for both buildings for all 465 apartment entrances.
